PRODUCT INFORMATION GUIDE

OUR BODIES WERE DESIGNED TO INTERACT WITH CANNABINOIDS.

In the 90s, scientists discovered the Endocannabinoid System (ECS), which includes cell receptor sites—CB1 and CB2—found throughout the body in the skin, gastrointestinal, reproductive, immune, and central and peripheral nervous systems.

Cannabinoids are neurotransmitters produced in the body that bind to these receptor sites. Cannabidiol or CBD is one of many cannabinoids that can influence these receptors to promote an array of potentially positive results, including activating TRPV1 receptors known to moderate inflammation, pain perception, and body temperature.

CBD can also increase the amount of Anandamide, or the “bliss molecule,” which plays a part in the neural generation of motivation and pleasure.

Hundreds of studies on this potent plant extract validate its use for centuries. More and more people are being educated on the benefits of maintaining healthy cannabinoid levels and what that can mean for overall lifestyle.

SISELSAFE® CBD IS GROWN ORGANICALLY WITH NO PESTICIDES, HERBICIDES, OR CHEMICAL FERTILIZERS, AND MAY CALM THE MIND, HELPING TO OPTIMIZE THE BODY.*

WHY SISELSAFE CBD FULL SPECTRUM HEMP EXTRACT?

- This premium product is made with Full Spectrum Hemp Extract from the flower, leaf, and stalk and NOT Hemp Oil from the seed. Hemp oil has 25 Parts Per Million (PPM) of CBD, whereas Hemp Extract has 150,000 PPM of CBD. You get virtually no therapeutic benefit from Hemp Oil. Consider the source.
- The proof is on the label. By scanning the QR Code you can see the third-party Certificate of Analysis which will show you EXACTLY how much CBD we have in our product as well as the lack of toxic chemicals. No QR code means no transparency.
- SiselSafe CBD Full Spectrum Hemp is sustainable, renewable, and made in the USA under strict quality controls. Sisel works directly with American farmers to ensure sustainable practices and that our hemp is organically grown without any chemicals. This top to bottom quality, consistency, and safety is part of the Sisel Safe promise and why we call it SiselSafe CBD.
- SiselSafe CBD Full Spectrum Hemp Extract uses carrier oils that contains Medium Chain Triglycerides (MCT) like coconut or palm kernel oil, because these oils are easier for the body to absorb. Better absorption, better results.

Calms the Mind from Daily Stressors, Helping to Optimize the Body*

When you are stressed your body tries to divert resources from other critical systems in order to cope. Run too long in this mode and your health and performance can suffer. SiselSafe CBD Full Spectrum Hemp Extract can help calm the mind (some describe its soothing effects as a warm bath) from daily stressors, which then allows your body to function more optimally.

Promotes a Healthy Response to Exercise Activity*

With a body free from mental and physical stress, you can focus your energy on amplifying your exercise routine. SiselSafe CBD Full Spectrum Hemp Extract can help your body recover faster from those workouts and other physical activities by promoting a healthy, more balanced response.

Encourages a Healthy Immune Response*

SiselSafe CBD Full Spectrum Hemp Extract can potentially modulate your body's natural immune system. SiselSafe CBD may help achieve better homeostasis because sometimes that response needs to be elevated and at other times your immune system needs to back down so that it doesn't compromise healthy cellular function.

Acts as a Neuroprotective Against Oxidative Stress*

SiselSafe CBD Full Spectrum Hemp Extract may help reduce oxidative stress on the brain and nervous system which in turn can support the growth and development of new neurons.

Supports the Digestive Process*

SiselSafe CBD Full Spectrum Hemp Extract may help maintain a healthy digestive system by supplementing the Endocannabinoid System, which plays an important role in gastrointestinal function, such as hunger signaling, motility, gut permeability, and gut microbiota. CBD can also support the stomach lining and promote a healthy response to excess stress.

Benefits SiselSafe CBD May Offer:

- Calms the mind from daily stressors, helping to optimize the body*
- Promotes a healthy response to exercise activity*
- Acts as a neuroprotective against oxidative stress*
